RE: SERVICE LEVELS

Dear Mhlo,

We have been a client of Labour Net for 15 years and have always found their assistance in Labour disputes, disciplinary process and employee contracts excellent.

As a motor dealer we also belong to the RMI which provides similar assistance, however Labour Net's business model gives us far more because of their service level agreements, national infrastructure, qualified staff and their ability to cover all aspects of our employee/employer relationships.

Labour Net also provides us with unique assistance on our Employee equity and workplace skills submissions which in turn allows Eagle to claim all monies due to us by the Merseta.

All companies trading in South Africa in today's difficult times will require professional labour advice and our relationship with Labour Net has always been worthwhile.

Yours sincerely

T. J. Landey
